

DEAL AROUND THE WORLD CASH' RELIEF PLAN

PRINCE ASKS TO GIVE THE REGINA OF TOTAL COSTS

City Will Also Give Added Amount for Clothing, Household Utensils on Regular Quota.

REGINA, Sept. 5.—An entire new system of relief was decided upon by Regina's city council last night.

It will take the form of a works program, to be paid for in cash on cash and voucher, with a complete re-registration of all relief recipients on a new application form drafted as a legal contract enforceable under the criminal code.

The plan rejects the recent offer of the provincial government to contribute $60,000 a month as its share toward relief in Regina.

Instead, the government will be asked by the city to contribute two thirds of the cost, the city providing the balance.

In addition the city will give to relief recipients, under the work program an additional 25 per cent over their regular quota for a clothing allowance and purchase of household utensils.

The plan is to apply to all physically fit and those who are not so fit, who refuse work will be struck off relief.

The city council learned during the discussion that relief is costing the city over $100 a day.

With approval of this plan the city commissioners will at once meet the provincial government to close out an agreement under the recently announced provincial relief scheme for urban centers.

Despite the heavy shipment to the east, the amount in store—50,000 bushels in provincial terminals—remains unchanged.

The increased activity is attributed to heavier yields in districts where the crop was comparatively light last year.

HITLER WANTS TO GET THRONE AS EMPEROR

dreaded right along as I started in a dispatch from Holland several months ago.

On January 20, 1933, the day when Hitler was appointed chancellier by President Hindenburg, Alfred Rosenberg, chief editor of the Volkische Beobachter, wrote: "Today the Fuehrer has covered the first stretch of the road that leads to the palace."

VOTING WILL BE CENSORED

These words, which sounded mysteriously a year and a half ago, assume new significance now that Hitler has clothed himself with a well-nigh almighty power, such as never even Napoleon possessed. This seizure of supreme power upon Hindenburg's death was raised by a plebiscite the endorsement of which was the objective of the popular will and not by a vote cast by the Reichstag.

Hitler has the ambition to be a "Volkshaerr," my informant declared, that is an emperor by grace of the popular will and not by a vote cast by the Reichstag.

The popular will could not fail him, considering the manner in which the plebiscite was prepared. Votes by well-known Marxists or liberals were simply not counted. The imperial proclamation will not be long delayed, my informant believed, since the plebiscite shows strong approval of Hitler's assumption of the presidential powers.

That the Fuehrer refused the title of president, saying that it should be allowed to die with Hindenburg, makes an additional point that Hitler plans a bigger hour for himself.

Sceptical as I was upon learning this news, which I first thought to be a mere canard, I received a more convincing proof when I learned authentic news that Hitler had been thrown out from Berlin after an effort to launch what reception Kaiser Adolf Hitler was having the leaders of the Heimwehr movement in Vienna.

BEATTY TELLS NEW PLAN FOR RAILWAY UNITY

C.P.R. President Tells Taxpayers to Save $50,000,000 a Year

VANCOUVER, Sept. 5.—A plan for unification of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways, saving Canadian taxpayers from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 annually, was outlined by E. W. Beatty, C.P.R. chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway in an address here last Tuesday.

The C.P.R. head made his plan for unification of the government-owned C.N.R. by the Canadian Pacific. He called, he said, for a partnership agreement under which three would be no interference with the ownership of either company.

No earnings of the properties, jointly operated, Mr. Beatty said, would be divided in agreed proportions between the two railways. Both would apply their revenues to the payment of interest charges and other obligations.

MOORE SECURITY

Answering what he described as the "most reasonable" apprehension regarding his scheme, Mr. Beatty said that under such a partnership as he planned railway employees would be employed which, under the plan, is denied them.

He said unification of the systems would not add to the volume of employment.

"The railway situation in this country is unenviable and unalterable," he declared. "I do not know why it is so, but it is so, because we have heretofore been able to pay the doctor's bill. I fear that under his plan the transportation business of the country would be a 'regularity' and occur."

FOOLISH FEARS

"There is a certain amount of honest fear that what I am suggesting is that you should turn over the transportation business of this country to a private corporation, which might exploit you," Mr. Beatty continued. "It is a foolish one. The Board of Railway Commissioners is a body of men and women who are intelligent and given increased powers of management."

He said that if necessary, he would establish a judicial body to regulate the rates of Canadian railways."

SINCLAIR HAS LONG TALK TO HEAD OF U.S.

Refuses to Tell Newsmen What President Roosevelt Discussed

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

WIDE PARK, N.Y., Sept. 5.—Hastings University, Japan Sinclair, Calif.-"Eagle" plan to end President Roosevelt's gubernatorial nominee, left the summer White House last night after "the most interesting ten-hours talk I ever had in my life."

The former Sinclair and novelist left for New York to talk with James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, first with fight for the new deal and his own "Eagle" plan to end President Roosevelt's gubernatorial nominee, left the summer White House last night after "the most interesting ten-hours talk I ever had in my life."

The gray-haired Democratic nominee remained here a moment to keep an appointment with newspapermen in which he talked back at Thomas, Sinclair, and recent critic, and at Herbert Hoover, whom he termed the "friend of the millionaires."

But not a word would he say about what he and President Roosevelt talked about. He explained I don't want to use the president's name as a place to exploit my life.

Eagles Seen At Mountain House

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Sept. 5.—Eagles have been spotted in the district for the first time, four of them have their nest in a tree on the banks of the Saskatchewan.

He was accompanied by Mrs. E. Davidson and Miss McKinnon, Calgary, and Mrs. W. McKinnon, of Lethbridge.

Spacious Rooms Redecorated To Present Finest

Crew of Men Has Been Working on Old
Premises to Make Ready for Formal Opening, September 6

Restored to its former nadian Legion, B.E.S.L., splendor, its spacious lounge rooms redecored and re-furnished in a vividly contrasting color scheme, the Memorial hall will be formally reopened on Thursday afternoon, September 6, by Brigadier Alex Ross, K.C., C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D., Dominion president of the Ca-

For two months carpenters, painters, furniture polishers and a corps of other mechanics have been busy bringing the Memorial hall to a state of perfection which has resulted in its being made the best soldiers' club in the Dominion.

Originally built as a memorial to the men of Edmonton and district who fell in the Great War by public minded citizens, the Memorial hall then ranked as the finest and best equipped soldier recreational home. It has now been restored to its former glories.

NEW LIGHTING

The upstairs lounge room has been redecored, new lighting effects installed and furniture selected when the building was erected repolished and re-upholstered. In addition, lounge tables and wicker chairs of comfortable and charming design have been installed. The ensemble is extremely pleasing to the eye, and affords the acme of comfort for members.

The walls have been painted an ivory tint which contrasts in vivid fashion with the paneling, the scarlet upholstery of the furniture adding a blend of color which makes this room an epic of the furnisher's art.

At the end of the spacious lounge is a table on which is racked all the latest British, Canadian and American periodicals. In the south east corner a gleaming service buffet has been placed, with all its attendant refrigeration service. From light refreshments, butter milk, tomato juice and other bottled drinks. Two ordinaries are in constant service.

Hung on the walls are photographs of Private C. J. Kinross, V.C.; Private J. Chipman Kerr, V.C.; and Lieutenant G. B. McKee, V.C., gifts to the Canadian Legion from comrades in arms of these heroes.

HISTORIC PICTURES

Other pictures of Great War historical interest are displayed, while the curtain and drapery effects give a touch of home to the room which members should find extremely restful.

In the paneled memorial fireplace, with its super-inscription of badges of regiments in which Edmonton men saw service, a log

Manager

Joe Falster, manager, Edmonton branch, Canadian Legion, who recently undertook to re-organize this branch. Born in Yorkshire, England, he came to Canada in 1912, enlisted November 17, 1914, joining the 31st Battalion. He returned to Calgary on June 1, 1919. For a number of years he was manager of the Calgary legion with conspicuous success and came to Edmonton to take over the duties of manager here.

five burns brightly each evening, adding to the general effect of coziness and comfort of this club room. The lighting effects are the latest which electrical genius has devised, and sheds on the whole ensemble a mellowness of light which blends perfectly with the general color scheme of the room.

The main hall has also been redecored throughout and a startling improvement made in its acoustic qualities. The acoustics of this hall has been a problem which until now had given considerable anxiety to officials of the Legion. To overcome the difficulty the stage has been widened and brought forward with the result that the merest whisper from the stage can now be heard in all corners of the hall. In making structural alterations the management paid special attention to the provision of cloakroom accommodation, and other features necessary for the rapid service and comfort of patrons attending social functions and entertainments.

Possibly the greatest improvement wrought in the Memorial hall is the transformation made in the basement lounge room. The old protruding seats have been torn out and replaced by oak tables and chairs lined in delightful shades of green and brown.

The walls have been painted green and ivory, while the lighting system has been changed, and replaced by gleaming hanging lamps of a futuristic design. The ventilation system has been renovated and several fans installed which create a steady stream of fresh air through the building. The old service buffet has been replaced by a gleaming nickel counter, which acts as a reflector for the splendid lighting system. Backing the counter has been installed the most up-to-date refrigeration system yet installed in any hotel or lounge room in the province.

HOW LIBERALS CAME BACK IN SASKATCHEWAN

not had time to acquire characteristics appropriate to their environment. He told them they would have to get a move on.

There are about 2,500 families in the extreme drought area. Mr. Gardiner told me at least 2,000 of them would not think of moving. They are too proud of the quality of their land.

So he told them right on their own heads that they would have to learn by shift in the next few years to pay for the lean, or the great emergency crop insurance of at least a hundred and a half an acre to provide seed and stock feed for the ensuing year.

The Anderson government spent millions on relief in southern Saskatchewan. Gardiner carried every constituency in the drought area. That's the most interesting political fact I learned in Saskatchewan. I don't think "Jimmy" Gardiner, as they call him, is a popular idol. But he seems to inspire confidence. He has gone back into office with a cabinet, mostly young and aggressive. He himself is not as young as Mitchell Hepburn, but he is full of energy and fight.

KEEP DOWN EXPENSES

The main policy on which he rode back into office was a pledge to keep down government expenditures. "Thirty four highways are in luxury we can't afford," he told his people and they agreed.

Practical administration of the affairs of the province of Saskatchewan is the absorbing subject to which he has set his hand. He is interested in what he probably considers to be "factual economic theories," not in fine spun constitutional issues. His idea is to keep the taxes down so the farmer can make a living.

To the extent that the leader of a party which has just won an overwhelming victory at the polls represents public opinion, this frame of mind must be accepted as fairly general.

MONEY REFORM NOT AN ISSUE

"Nobody has taken much interest in monetary and financial reform in Saskatchewan," a leading citizen told me in explanation of this condition. "It just has not become practical politics. Perhaps if we had a Cery McEwen in this province it might be different."

Mr. Gardiner put up an interesting argument for orthodox finance. The C.C.F. said the combined public and private debt of Saskatchewan was $600,000,000 and such a sum could never be paid," he told me. "I replied that in the last four years the farmers had received $700,000,000 less for their products than they received from the preceding four years."

"If in the four good years we had lived on the standard that prevailed in the past four years we could have used the $700,000,000 to wipe off our debt entirely and we could still have had $100,000,000 in the bank."

WHY GRITS FIGHT PROGRESSIVES

In Saskatchewan there is not the close understanding between Liberals and Progressives that there is in Manitoba. A little bit of history explains that.

The Liberals were always in office five years ago. The former attitude in tariff questions was such that the Conservatives never had a chance. But to the extent that Saskatchewan, like all western provinces, is populated by people who came from eastern Canada, it has a proportion of people with Tory background and continental leanings. At any event they hated the Grits. As a result when the Progressive movement grew up it was enemies of the Liberals who were its backbone and a large percentage of them were former Conservatives. The Liberals found themselves in conflict with the same people, but they had changed their label.

In 1928, Dr. Anderson, a big Orangeman, raised an issue that made it easy for Conservatives and Progressives to co-operate. It was a religious issue—a criticism of nuns teaching in public schools. That was what defeated the Liberals in 1928.

RELIGIOUS ISSUE DEAD

The Anderson government—a co-operative arrangement between Conservative and Progressive—passed a law forbidding this and everybody knows that it has not been enforced. There are still nuns teaching in public schools in communities where that arrangement suits the local conditions.

RIGHT WING LIBERALS

What Liberals outside of Saskatchewan regard as unfortunate is that this Tory-Progressive alliance drove the Liberal party into warfare with the Progressives. That clash drove many Progressives leftwards into the arms of the C.C.F.

It also drove the Liberals to the right on many questions and it accounts very largely for the skeptical attitude of the Liberal party in the Liberal policy of trade expansion by tariff reduction and reciprocal treaties.

These are the men who have put the province in debt I am all for working our way out on our own account. If we can get money in the open market we will not accept Dominion aid."

That is why the Saskatchewan government accepted a rate of over 5 per cent on nine 15-year bonds the other day. Premier Gardiner suspects that Ottawa wants to control all provincial borrowing and it is a staunch believer in provincial rights. It is an old Liberal policy of great merit. The question is how far has it been outmoded.

While who are preaching economy and retrenchment today are the men who fought extravagant expenditures on the province," said Gardiner.

"Machen and Drayton offered us $20,000,000 for highway if we would put up 40 per cent," he said. "Borden and White offered us $100,000,000 for technical education on a 50-50 basis. Bennett made us a restricted and unlimited railway loan to the Anderson government. These are the men who have put the province in debt I am all for working our way out on our own account. MONOTONY ONLY IN OWN MIND

The thing that the domestic woman complains about most is the monotony of her life. Doing the same chores over and over again day after day, year in and year out. Cooking meals for husbands and children who have to be fed three times a day. Sweeping floors and dusting the next day. Washing little heads. Putting clean clothes on children who are soiled the next minute. Tending Johnny for the millionth time not to put his hands on the table. And so it goes. The monotony of the domestic life is not to be taken lightly.

Preparing the same old cereal for breakfast. Doing the same old housework. And sometimes she has a nervous breakdown. And sometimes she goes crazy. In old New England houses they used to show you where generations of women had rocked in the same rocking chair until they had worn grooves in the floor, and in the days before the telephone and good roads and rural delivery the lonely women were filled with country women who had been driven insane by their monotonous lives.

Of course, housework is monotonous. No one can deny that. But all work is monotonous. If you regard it merely as work, it is. But if you regard it as a labor of love, it is not. The same old sales talk to the same old customers day after day. The same old penner nails on the same old customer. The same old doctor listens to the same old tales of pain and ills. The writer can't find out the same old get out of anything in this world. It is the same old truth that the domestic woman does not sufficiently take to heart. She gets no kick out of her work because she puts no heart into it. She finds housework dull and uninteresting because she puts no inspiration in it.

Everything is the way you look at it. It is the same old truth that the domestic woman does not sufficiently take to heart. She gets no kick out of her work because she puts no heart into it. She finds housework dull and uninteresting because she puts no inspiration in it.

Question—My friend Marian and I wish to have a party soon and invite a number of friends in our town, and a few in the neighboring communities. But we have no special cover, such as honoring a guest or giving a birthday party. What type of invitation would be most appropriate?

Answer—It is not necessary to have any special object other than hospitality. If you wish, you can give an American party. Unless you can telephone invitations, it is too late to make arrangements for the Lafayette Day celebration (September 6), but you can give a party for Constitution Day (Monday, September 20). Feature Revolutionary heroes of your State; decorate with national and State colors. Include a Colonial meal among the dishes, and have a musical featuring American songs of your vintage and with day-date hour, written in lower left corner. Include Marian's card with your card as enclosed.

Question—When are Modern napkins used—for dinner or luncheon? I have seen them in use but, if there is no dinner or luncheon, I'd rather buy the plain ones than adding to my wardrobe.

Answer—Have one set of Modern napkins, with tablecloths for special occasions—luncheon or dinner for outside party. For ordinary use, plain linen is most satisfactory.

Flapper Fanny Says

When a child is afraid of something, what are you going to do? Make fun of him, show him at it, or bully him into a show of courage?

I wouldn't do any of them, simply because it would be of any use. Oh, yes, he may pretend to be braver, to laugh, to talk a lot of water, or a dog, or a big cat, or a big bear, but he may put up a grand front as he climbs up the dark stairs alone to bed. But these things do not mean the terror is not there just because he is trying to whistle up his courage. It is well-known that the violent effort to down a real fear by sheer force of will makes the trouble worse. Before going into the matter of the constructive course to pursue, please let me discuss for an instant.

ADULTS KNOW FEAR. Why do we make such a fuss over the fear of children when every adult on earth is chuck full of it? Perhaps you think you have none, that you are one of those megalomaniacs of who is not "afraid of God or man."

All right. You had an abashed thought. Last night you felt a familiar twinge of fear in time that you laughed it off or call the dentist.

Or you were up in an airplane when we'll say, and the engine stopped. Below was fog and storm and a mountain. The pilot shouted, "Don't worry. We can only die once."

I suppose you lighted a cigarette and smoked it.

BANKER SAVES OLD MAN FROM SWINDLE DEAL

Vancouver Branch Manager Refuses to Cash Cheque for $1,500

“COULD YOU EVER,” said an intervention of a Vancouver bank manager saved George Mackie, 80-year-old visitor from Oak River, Man., $1,500, police said.

According to authorities, Mackie, who is touring the coast, met a young stranger while enroute here from Vancouver on a steamer. A second man was introduced and a scheme promising large and quick return proposed.

Police said the scheme apparently appealed to Mackie who went to a Vancouver bank to cash his cheque for $1,500. The bank manager, on hearing of the proposition, refused to cash the cheque and informed police.

The two “strangers” had disappeared from their hotel when police arrived.

Police refused to divulge details of the get-rich-quick scheme.

Basic Wage For Office Workers Planned In B.C.

VICTORIA, Sept. 5.—The British Columbia Board of Industrial Relations is considering minimum wage regulations for male office workers, Alan Reid, chairman of the board, announced Tuesday.

“At the present time minimum wages are in effect for female employees in office occupations, which wages apply also to male employees in or about the work usually done by women and girls,” Mr. Reid said. “Up to the present, however, no order has been made under the male minimum wage act with respect to this group.”

Hollywood Gossip

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By DAN THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 5.—Already one of the greatest hostile to be derived from a new and strict movie censorship requirements is being felt in Hollywood. Robbed of their favorite sex and gangster theme, the movie-makers have been forced to comb other fields in search of new entertainment. This will result in some extent in novel methods of presenting sex stories.

“Lottery Lover,” soon to go into production on the Fox lot, will be among the first of this type of production. Here we will see a story told with pictures and music simultaneously. Every foot of film will have a musical background, even when the characters are speaking. And the music at all times will be symbolic of the action on the screen.

Even the sound effects will be stylized. For example, the soft patter of rain or the rumble of a car.

Church services are being recorded on discs and reproduced on a phonographic instrument for use in churches unable to have regular pastors.

Without sticking this red card in the corner of her dressing room mirror, she never goes on a trip without a line of diamonds in her hair. And she won't discuss any sort of business unless she has her charm with her.

LONGER COMEDIES
Andy Clyde, the young man who has made himself famous for his characterization of old “Pop” Martin on the screen, is through with comedy. He has decided to stardom in the same branch of the industry.

And Busby Berkeley, who brought Chaplin, Harry Langdon, and Busby Berkeley to the screen, is through with comedy. He has decided to stardom in the same branch of the industry.

As so often is the case, his first picture, “The Sign of the Cross,” will be away from his home lot.

The new production, “College Sweetheart,” will be away from his home lot.

It is interesting to note that this film is being produced by David O. Russell, producer of “The Sign of the Cross,” who also produced “College Sweetheart.”

FIRST COMES THE DENIAL
Bruce Cabot is busy denying that there is any sort of rift between him and his wife, Jean Harlow. “Who says there is?” he asks.

“I believe that such presentation of a screen story will enhance its entertainment value many times over. I believe that the whole story is being told to the ear at the same time it is being told to the eye,” declares Al. Rockett, who will produce the film.

TOKEN OF LUCK
One of the diamonds may be just a card to most of us. But to Al. Rockett, it is the outstanding symbol of good luck. Al. Rockett has opened a show of a picture.

FROST CAUSES LOSS OF SEED

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Sept. 5.—Frost has taken its toll of seed fields in northern Saskatchewan and the prospect of seed for the 1935 crop is anything but promising.

The quality has deteriorated in some districts to such an extent it is unlikely farmers of the north will have a surplus for seeding the 1935 crop.

Church services are being recorded on discs and reproduced on a phonographic instrument for use in churches unable to have regular pastors.

Without sticking this red card in the corner of her dressing room mirror, she never goes on a trip without a line of diamonds in her hair. And she won't discuss any sort of business unless she has her charm with her.

LONGER COMEDIES
Andy Clyde, the young man who has made himself famous for his characterization of old “Pop” Martin on the screen, is through with comedy. He has decided to stardom in the same branch of the industry.

And Busby Berkeley, who brought Chaplin, Harry Langdon, and Busby Berkeley to the screen, is through with comedy. He has decided to stardom in the same branch of the industry.

As so often is the case, his first picture, “The Sign of the Cross,” will be away from his home lot.

The new production, “College Sweetheart,” will be away from his home lot.

It is interesting to note that this film is being produced by David O. Russell, producer of “The Sign of the Cross,” who also produced “College Sweetheart.”

FIRST COMES THE DENIAL
Bruce Cabot is busy denying that there is any sort of rift between him and his wife, Jean Harlow. “Who says there is?” he asks.

“I believe that such presentation of a screen story will enhance its entertainment value many times over. I believe that the whole story is being told to the ear at the same time it is being told to the eye,” declares Al. Rockett, who will produce the film.

Chickie's Daughter

By ELENORE MEHRIN

CHAPTER
“Got a few clothes, Pippin. Take as little as possible. A plane is waiting for you in the field. I’ve made the arrangements.”

Pippin leaned with both hands on the door and stared frightened at the man’s eyes. Her lips were stiff. She could not bring forth the shocking words that formed in her mind.

“But why are we taking a plane?” she asked. “You, he is very seriously hurt.”

She went blindly to her room, threw a few clothes into a suitcase, put on a heavy coat, left a note for Bill and rushed out to meet her mother in the car.

She slipped in the corner, feeling rigid and terribly cold. Suddenly she was sitting bolt upright. A sickening alarm made her teeth chatter.

“When did you get this word?” she asked. “What did they say?”

“He was coming when they found him. He asked that David Cabot for him and that you come. Bill’s mother phoned from New York and begged your father to go to New York with her.”

“Is he dying?”

“No, but it must be he is dying.”

NAZI THREATS SHOOT TROOPS TO SLAY LINE

Austria Becomes Active as New Scare Spurs Authorities

VIENNA, Sept. 5.—A new Nazi scare Tuesday sent reinforcements for Austrian patrols along the Yugoslav border bustling to the frontier.

The move followed reports that Nazis exiled in the neighboring country since their abortive push in July were planning to reconquer the border for another attack.

First reports that troops were sent to the border had officials in Flensburg, capital of Carinthia, say only members of the auxiliary defense corps were moved up.

Some squads were placed at all police buildings in the province, near the Yugoslav border. A day of wild rumors—none to the effect that Italian troops were again moving to the border—terminated with reports spread through Carinthia that an Italian had attempted to kill King Alexander of Yugoslavia.

DREAD MALADY DISCOVERED AT CAPE BRETON

"Tularemia" Found For First Time in Canada in Maritimes

HALIFAX, Sept. 5.—A dread disease "tularemia," known in southern United States, but new in other sections of the globe, has been located in Nova Scotia. Dr. H. G. Grant, dean of Dalhousie University medical school, announced here Tuesday.

The malady, common to rodents and sometimes contracted by man, is being brought to the attention of the public by the handling of rabbits, which has a mortality average of from 30 to 40 per cent. The discovery of the disease in this province was made by Dr. GRANT and Dr. L. MacLean, provincial epidemiologist, when they were called to St. Peter's, Cape Breton, about which Senator J. A. MacDonald, M.P., to examine one of his patients.

The case was put on record as the first case of tularemia in Canada, identified in Nova Scotia. Dr. Grant will prepare a paper on his findings in cooperation with the provincial epidemiologist at this afternoon's session of the Dalhousie medical school conference course.

FASCISM BIG LABOR ENEMY

Drilling and arming of civilians made clear that Fascism is the enemy of the labor movement.

WYOMOUTH, England, Sept. 5.—Drilling and arming of civilians made clear that Fascism is the enemy of the labor movement, delegates to the congress of trade unions were told Tuesday.

The delegates devoted the major part of the day to a discussion of an elaborate report urging a re-orientation of efforts to combat the growth of Fascism and Nazism.

Committees have agreed to be in almost every hall a serious menace to the labor movement. Walter Citrine, leading British trade unionist, told the gathering.

HON. ROBERT WEIR SAYS DRY ZONES WILL BLOOM AGAIN

Signed For Title Radio Role In N.Y.

OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—Emphasizing he had never taken his view that any large proportion of the farm families in western Canada are dry, Hon. Robert Weir, minister of agriculture, in an interview, has declared he still had great faith in the future of that part of the province.

"Officials of this department have made extensive studies of the dry belt, the results, however, convinced me that the majority of the farmers in the dry belt are not dry, but are in a position to produce crops. I have much faith in the future of that part of the province."
